GEORGE THOMAS ABELL

George Thomas Abell was born at Wakeeney, Kansas. While attending Colorado A&M (now Colorado State University), he was a member of Gamma Omega, an honorary fraternity, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a social fraternity. He graduated with degrees in civil and irrigation engineering and mechanical engineering. In 1927 he moved to Midland, Texas, where he trained himself as a geologist and entered the petroleum business as an independent oil operator. In 1939, he married Gladys Hanger of Ft. Worth, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County family.

During his professional career, he was active in the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. He was a charter member of the Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers Association.

In addition to his professional endeavors, Mr. Abell was also active in many civic, community, cultural, social, educational and historical activities. He was a member of the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District. He served as President of the Board during the construction of the present Midland High School auditorium. As a result of these accomplishments, he was awarded a life membership in the Texas Congress of the Parent-Teacher Association. He served as the Chairman of the first capital funds campaign for Midland Memorial Hospital and was a member of the hospital's Board of Trustees and Board of Governors. A member of the Downtown Midland Rotary Club, he was recognized on numerous occasions for his contributions to the civic, cultural and educational betterment and growth of Midland.

George Abell devoted much time to the Boy Scouts of America, serving in various capacities in the Buffalo Trail Council. He led the capital fund campaign which secured the 6,000 acre camp in the Davis mountains. For his service to the Boy Scouts, he was awarded the highest recognition of the Boy Scouts, the Silver Beaver Award.

While serving as a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Abell originated the idea for the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame. He spent much of his time and effort collecting antique oil field equipment now displayed on the Museum's grounds. Many of the oil paintings of historical events which are on display in the Museum were researched by George and commissioned by the Abell-Hanger Foundation. He was the first president of the Museum's board of trustees and a member of the Hall of Fame.

GLADYS HANGER ABELL

Gladys Hanger Abell was born and raised in Fort Worth, Texas, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County Family. She graduated from Paschal High School and attended Texas Christian University and the University of Texas at Austin.

Throughout her lifetime, Mrs. Abell was an active champion of civic and cultural causes, contributing her time, talents, energy, and financial resources as one of West Texas' most philanthropic citizens. She served on the board of governors of Midland Memorial Hospital, board of trustees of Midland Presbyterian Homes, and the President's Club of the Museum of the Southwest. She took great pride in her service on the board of trustees of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame.

Her interests also included the Midland Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Midland Garden Club, Women's Auxiliary of Midland Memorial Hospital, Delta Delta Delta Midland Alumnae Chapter, and the Midland Women's Club of which she was a life member.

An avid American patriot, Mrs. Abell was a member of the Texas Chapter of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation was created by Mr. and Mrs. Abell to carry on the philanthropic endeavors which they pursued during their lifetimes. Speaking of business success, George Abell once said,

“Sure, men like to be successful, not just for the money, but because of what one can do for his community, his country, and for mankind. Business success provides the opportunity to do some of the things most of us dream about doing for our community and its various institutions, organizations, and agencies.”

To their memory, this annual statement reports the Foundation's endeavors for the current fiscal year.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

DREAMS

Dreams have always been an important part of conveying our hopes and aspirations. Fifty years ago, Martin Luther King delivered his "I Have a Dream" speech in Washington D.C. In that speech he talked about freedom, the great beacon light of hope against withering injustice, the manacles of segregation and chains of discrimination. Near the end of his speech, he delivered these memorable words: "I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character." He ended his speech with a call to let freedom ring. Truly one of the most powerful speeches he, or anyone else, ever delivered.

In 1968, Elvis Presley closed his TV comeback special with his song "If I Can Dream". It is a powerful song and he delivered it in a heartfelt manner. In it he sang this:

But as long as a man
Has the strength to dream
He can redeem his soul and fly

Deep in my heart there's a trembling question
Still I am sure that the answer gonna come somehow
Out of the dark, there's a beckoning candle
And while I can think, while I can walk
While I can dream, please let my dream
Come true, right now.

Continuing down our musical journey of dreams, Tom Petty had a song entitled "Running Down a Dream". The chorus of his song said this:

Running down a dream;
Never would come to me;
Working on a mystery;
Going wherever it leads;
Running Down a Dream.

I felt so good, like anything is possible;
There's something good, waiting down the road,
I'm picking up whatever's mine.

His song captures the current attitude in Midland. Many are indeed, running down their own personal dream. Corporations are running down their dream. Midland has always been a place where that could and has happened to many people and businesses. It happened to George Thomas Abell and his wife, Gladys Hanger Abell. Their vision of what that dream encompassed however was different than most. It did not begin nor end with monetary success. George Abell once said this about success,

"Sure, men like to be successful, not just for the money, but because of what one can do for his community, his country, and for mankind. Business success provides the opportunity to do some of the things most of us dream about doing for our community and its various institutions, organizations and agencies."

What are our dreams for Midland? Is that there will be no hunger or homelessness? Is it a safe and secure community? Is it a world class public education system? Is it the end of domestic violence? Is it excellent health care? Is it safe and affordable housing? Is it care for those with physical or developmental challenges? Is it a true sense of community and belonging for all our citizens?

A dream for financial success alone is an incomplete sentence. What will you do with your success? If you sell your company for $100 million or $500 million, what then will you do? If Midland has proved anything in its entire existence, it is that building something together that truly lasts is far more valuable than momentary success alone. The more you think about George Abell's declaration the more sense it makes. It is an undeniable fact that the moment you die, all that owe and possess becomes the property of someone else. Maybe George and Gladys got that and purposed to do something lasting that would have people thinking of them long after they passed on. Our logo includes the phrase, "The Philanthropy of George and Gladys Abell." So 34 years after George passed away and 25 since Gladys died, here is their dream of improving Midland for all that live here, now approaching $200 million in total grants awarded and providing $7-$8 million each year to further their charitable ambition.

Without their dream, many things in this community would have not been possible. In this new environment of new, emerging foundations and charitable trusts coupled with powerful local corporate giving has leveraged their dream into areas previously only dreamt of. There is no better example of that than Midland Shared Spaces, a $10 million project entirely and completely beyond the reach of Abell-Hanger Foundation alone. But now in this new environment with the Scharbauer Foundation, Henry Foundation and Concho Resources, it is now becoming a reality. Wow! A 45,000 square foot facility entirely dedicated to housing non-profits, providing them with quality office space, state of the art technology and a unique venue for improved collaboration and increased organizational efficiency.

Let me conclude my comments with a final musical thought as expressed by John Lennon in his song "Imagine":

You may say that I'm a dreamer
But I'm not the only one
I hope someday you'll join us
And the world will be as one

I certainly don't know whether we will ever "be one" but I do know that we can be better. We are all, collectively and individually, running down a dream.

FOUNDATION POLICY

In furtherance of the mandate in its charter to support “any benevolent, charitable, educational, or missionary undertaking,” the Foundation makes grants to nonprofit organizations, which are involved in such undertakings for the public welfare, including, but not limited to, education, health services, human services, arts and cultural activities and community or societal benefit.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation has deep roots in Midland and the West Texas region. Midland was the site of Mr. Abell’s professional life and, together with Mrs. Abell, his personal life. As evidenced by the respective biographies in this report, the Abells were engaged in a wide range of community and civic activities. Mr. Abell’s business success was primarily achieved as an oil and gas operator in the rural areas of West Texas. As a result of his involvement in this geographic region, he developed a deep sense of obligation to the people and rural communities of West Texas.

The trustees have a strong commitment to continue the Abell’s philanthropic interests in Midland and West Texas. The trustees have affirmed that commitment to West Texas by targeting a preponderance of the foundation’s annual grant budget to Midland and fifty-six other counties in West Texas: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Brewster, Crane, Cochran, Coke, Cottle, Crockett, Crosby, Culberson, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, El Paso, Fisher, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Hudspeth, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kent, Kimble, Lamb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Menard, Midland, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Reeves, Schleicher, Scurry, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Taylor, Terrell, Terry, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Ward, Winkler and Yoakum.

Please refer to the foundation’s web site, www.abell-hanger.org, for current information on foundation policy, grant criteria, and application deadlines.
