James I. Trott

"The Architect"

James I. Trott came to work for George Abell in 1956 as the petrochemical engineer supervising the management of Mr. Abell’s eastern oil and gas operations. Over the years, Jim Trott came to be a trusted advisor to George Abell in matters outside the oil business. George Abell so trusted Jim Trott that in 1961 he was made a trustee of the nephews’ Abell-Hanger Foundation organization.

Jim Trott was largely responsible for the sale of the oil company’s western properties after George’s death in 1979, which provided the first significant injection of capital into the foundation. His careful and thoughtful approach to the sale decision was the key to securing the financial future of Abell-Hanger.

In the years that followed, he was instrumental in helping construct the board of trustees and staff of the foundation. It is a tribute to his intellectual ability and personal integrity that he was chosen by George Abell to serve in this important capacity with the foundation. Trust, honesty, integrity, and efficiencies are personal characteristics which sometimes appear in short supply these days, but George Abell found all these characteristics in Jim Trott.

Jim Trott was an unassuming and modest man who received his role with the foundation merely as the fulfillment of the trust which George and Gladys Abell placed in him. Seeing the worthwhile endeavors of the foundation was complete satisfaction in and of itself.

In March 2002, Jim Trott retired from active trustee participation in Abell-Hanger Foundation and was elected an honorary member of the foundation in recognition of his long and distinguished service to the Abell family and their philanthropic legacy, Abell-Hanger Foundation. In order to recognize and honor his long service to the Abell family and the foundation, the trustees established this college scholarship program for the young people graduating from Abell-Stoughton, Connec and Imperial High Schools. These James I. Trott West Texas Opportunity Scholarships enabled many students to pursue higher education opportunities that may have otherwise been inaccessible.

Jim Trott passed away in July 2009 but he will always be remembered by the staff and trustees as the architect of Abell-Hanger Foundation.

David L. Smith

"The Builder"

David L. Smith served as the Executive Director of the Abell-Hanger Foundation from 1983 until his retirement in 2016. Subsequent to the death of George Abell in 1979 and the sale of the family oil & gas working interests, while working for First National Bank of Midland Trust Department, David assisted James I. Trott and the Board of Trustees during the important formative period of the foundation. Then in 1983 he joined the foundation as Executive Director and laid the operational framework for the foundation to effectively carry out the philanthropic mission of the foundation that George & Gladys Abell established in 1954. Prior to her death in 1988, David provided valuable grant-making guidance to Gladys Abell in fulfilling her role as President of the Board of Trustees.

He built a foundation staff which always strived to provide the trustees with comprehensive analysis of funding opportunities enabling them to fulfill their fiduciary duty to the foundation. During his three-decade tenure as executive director, he provided critical leadership in evaluating charitable funding opportunities and through numerous financial and operational challenges.

He personally enjoyed representing both the Abell family and foundation trustees with the public but was always extremely mindful of credentialing all the foundation’s charitable work completely to George & Gladys Abell. Being a sincere believer in the merit and long-term benefits of philanthropy, he became a community advocate for generosily, volunteerism, and the creation of permanent philanthropy. He enthusiastically assisted and mentored new private foundation philanthropic entities believing that Abell-Hanger Foundation had established a worthy template in the community for the important and critical role of permanent philanthropy in meeting community charitable needs.

His guiding principles with all prospective grantees were always openness, honesty, humor and sincere mutual respect. He was elected a trustee of the foundation in 2001.

George Thomas Abell was born at Wakeeney, Kansas. While attending Colorado A&M (now Colorado State University), he was a member of Gamma Omega, an honorary fraternity, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a social fraternity. He graduated with degrees in civil and irrigation engineering and mechanical engineering. In 1927 he moved to Midland, Texas, where he trained himself as a geologist and entered the petroleum business as an independent oil operator. In 1939, he married Gladys Hanger of Ft. Worth, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County family.

During his professional career, he was active in the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. He was a charter member of the Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers Association.

In addition to his professional endeavors, Mr. Abell was also active in many civic, community, cultural, social, educational and historical activities. He was a member of the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District. He served as President of the Board during the construction of the present Midland High School auditorium. As a result of these accomplishments, he was awarded a life membership in the Texas Congress of the Parent-Teacher Association. He served as the Chairman of the first capital funds campaign for Midland Memorial Hospital and was a member of the hospital’s Board of Trustees and Board of Governors. A member of the Downtown Midland Rotary Club, he was recognized on numerous occasions for his contributions to the civic, cultural and educational betterment and growth of Midland.

George Abell devoted much time to the Boy Scouts of America, serving in various capacities in the Buffalo Trail Council. He led the capital fund campaign which secured the 6,000 acre camp in the Davis mountains. For his service to the Boy Scouts, he was awarded the highest recognition of the Boy Scouts, the Silver Beaver Award.

While serving as a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Abell originated the idea for the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame. He spent much of his time and effort collecting antique oil field equipment now displayed on the Museum’s grounds. Many of the oil paintings of historical events which are on display in the Museum were researched by George and commissioned by the Abell-Hanger Foundation. He was the first president of the Museum’s board of trustees and a member of the Hall of Fame.
Gladys Hanger Abell was born and raised in Fort Worth, Texas, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County Family. She graduated from Paschal High School and attended Texas Christian University and the University of Texas at Austin.

Throughout her lifetime, Mrs. Abell was an active champion of civic and cultural causes, contributing her time, talents, energy, and financial resources as one of ‘West Texas’ most philanthropic citizens. She served on the board of governors of Midland Memorial Hospital, board of trustees of Midland Presbyterian Homes, and the President’s Club of the Museum of the Southwest. She took great pride in her service on the board of trustees of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame.

Her interests also included the Midland Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Midland Garden Club, Women’s Auxiliary of Midland Memorial Hospital, Delta Delta Delta Midland Alumnae Chapter, and the Midland Women’s Club of which she was a life member.

An avid American patriot, Mrs. Abell was a member of the Texas Chapter of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation was created by Mr. and Mrs. Abell to carry on the philanthropic endeavors which they pursued during their lifetimes. Speaking of business success, George Abell once said,

“Sure, men like to be successful, not just for the money, but because of what one can do for his community, his country, and for mankind. Business success provides the opportunity to do some of the things most of us dream about doing for our community and its various institutions, organizations, and agencies.”

To their memory, this annual statement reports the Foundation’s endeavors for the current fiscal year.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR’S COMMENTS
ANNUAL REPORT
JUNE 30, 2016

These comments are the last for me as executive director as I’m now retired from the foundation. It is a little difficult for me to fathom where these 33 years have gone. It has been a personal privilege, honor and joy to have served this foundation in this role and continue the incredible philanthropic legacy of George and Gladys Abell. I still stand amazed at their decision in 1954 to create and fund this private foundation, a decision which I find to be bold, courageous and visionary. No one knows what the future holds but I can state with confidence that what their decision has meant to Midland and West Texas must have greatly surpassed their wildest expectations in the order of magnitude of its impact and influence in the community.

In my opinion, there are numerous instances where the hand of God was clearly evident in the life of this foundation. Consider the fact that the value of the oil and gas properties George owned in the early 1970’s quadrupled as the result of the OPEC oil embargo. Then consider the fact that after George’s death in 1979, a very wise decision was made to divest those family holdings. Those sale proceeds provided a substantial increase in the assets of the foundation in 1981 and Mrs. Abell’s estate provided the final family funding which then aggregated about $80 million. I believe that this sum of money going into the foundation would have shocked but also humbled and gratified them both.

Another case of divine guidance is the role of James I. Trott in constructing the governance of the foundation after the deaths of the donors. Jim was the petroleum engineer who managed George’s oil and gas interests and was largely responsible for developing the property portfolio. Jim Trott solicited help from John F. Younger, Jno Butler and Robert M. Leibrock to assist Gladys in the governance of the foundation. The individual perspectives of these fine men, all of which are now deceased, brought a wealth of experience, knowledge and wisdom to the management of this emerging philanthropic entity. It was virgin territory to all involved in the endeavor. The issues of long term investment and charitable distributions were thoroughly addressed. This first group of trustees literally laid the foundation for the long term operation and future success of the foundation.

Divine guidance is also evidenced in the trustees who followed this initial group. The list of trustees both current and past detailed in this report is comprised of the brightest and best of Midland, Texas and to the person they count their service a personal blessing and are humbled to serve the legacy of George and Gladys Abell as trustees of the foundation. They have done so unselfishly with no outside agenda.

I characterized the Abells decision to create this foundation as courageous. It has been said that courage is not the lack of fear but the belief that something else is more important. With a small family, only one son, the Abells instinctively knew that others were going to guide, guard and direct the foundation after the donors left this world. And that non family involvement would go on into perpetuity. The courage to leave that to unknown persons must have been rooted in a belief that private citizens could make informed, intelligent and effective charitable choices long after both of the Abells were gone.

Whatever the successes of this foundation, the credit should accrue to my wonderful staff: Suzanne Thomas, Bobbie Chappell, Herb Cartwright and Mark Palmer. It has been a huge blessing to me to have these talented and dedicated individuals with me along this journey. My first staff hire was Suzanne Thomas who is one of the most talented and gifted people I’ve ever known. Her dedication and hard work have enabled me to serve the trustees in an exceptional manner. Bobbie Chappell was the second to join the staff and is equally hard working and committed to doing a first class job for the foundation. Under the tutelage of James I. Trott, she has mastered the day to day management of our oil and gas properties, both producing and non-producing. Hiring Herb Cartwright enabled me to initiate new scholarship programs previously unreachable to us. He has served as the comptroller and actively engaged in our grant making. Mark Palmer joined our staff as special projects manager which involved Midland Shared Spaces and construction of our new building. He has been chosen to lead this foundation forward following my retirement. I have full faith and confidence in his ability to do so and we are fortunate to have him on staff.

If asked what I take pride in during my tenure here, I would point first to the continuous honoring of George and Gladys Abell in all that we’ve done over these years. Secondly, I feel that we have honored their donor intent for the foundation in where, why and how we have awarded their charitable dollars. Thirdly, I think that due to the public nature of our work, this foundation has proved a worthy model to others charitably inclined toward permanent philanthropy. And finally, I’m proud of the unwavering and total commitment of the trustees and staff to honoring the Abell legacy by their work and volunteer service to the work of this foundation.

Because of these men and women, the future for the Abell-Hanger Foundation is extremely bright and promising. This is particularly true in light of the newly emerging private foundations which have become wonderful community partners in addressing our challenges. One doesn’t have to look further than the collaborative effort of this group in addressing the needs of our local school district. The order of magnitude of this work necessitates more than one charitable entity to be successful.

I would be remiss if I didn’t mention at least some of the extraordinary people that I’ve encountered in the non-profit community. I’ve been blessed to have known and worked with passionately committed people like Dr. David Daniel, Barbara Tom Jowell, Roz Grover, Brooke Mueller, Dr. Sharon Canon, Laura Walker McCabe, Kathryn Shelly, Pastor George Bell, Alynda Best and Barbara Mamoulides. Your leadership and passion for your respective work is astonishing and beautiful to witness. I thank you for our professional relationship and wish you God’s Speed in all your important work.

I would like to sincerely thank Jim Trott for giving me this incredible job, each of the twenty trustees that I’ve served over the years and my staff who have always succeeded at making me look better than I really am. Thank you from the bottom of my heart because of you it has been a wonderful ride for me.

I leave you with this last question to ponder: If the current philanthropic work of Abell-Hanger, Scharbauer and Henry foundations has benefited our community thus far, can you imagine what a half dozen others could mean to the work of serving others, creating opportunity, meeting critical needs and improving our community? A dozen permanent philanthropic entities working in their own focus areas but individually complimenting each other would forever alter this community for the better. There is truly no place like Midland, Texas where this notion is a distinctive possibility.

FOUNDATION POLICY

In furtherance of the mandate in its charter to support “any benevolent, charitable, educational, or missionary undertaking,” the Foundation makes grants to nonprofit organizations, which are involved in such undertakings for the public welfare, including, but not limited to, education, health services, human services, arts and cultural activities and community or societal benefit.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation has deep roots in Midland and the West Texas region. Midland was the site of Mr. Abell’s professional life and, together with Mrs. Abell, his personal life. As evidenced by the respective biographies is this report, the Abells were engaged in a wide range of community and civic activities. Mr. Abell’s business success was primarily achieved as an oil and gas operator in the rural areas of West Texas. As a result of his involvement in this geographic region, he developed a deep sense of obligation to the people and rural communities of West Texas.

The trustees have a strong commitment to continue the Abell’s philanthropic interests in Midland and West Texas. The trustees have affirmed that commitment to West Texas by targeting a preponderance of the foundation’s annual grant budget to Midland and fifty-six other counties in West Texas: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Brewster, Crane, Cochran, Coke, Cottle, Crockett, Crosby, Culberson, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, El Paso, Fisher, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Hudspeth, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kent, Kimble, King, Lamb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Menard, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Reeves, Schleicher, Scurry, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Taylor, Terrell, Terry, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Ward, Winkler and Yoakum.
