George Thomas Abell was born at Wakeeney, Kansas. While attending Colorado A&M (now Colorado State University), he was a member of Gamma Omega, an honorary fraternity, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a social fraternity. He graduated with degrees in civil and irrigation engineering and mechanical engineering. In 1927 he moved to Midland, Texas, where he trained himself as a geologist and entered the petroleum business as an independent oil operator. In 1939, he married Gladys Hanger of Ft. Worth, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County family.

During his professional career, he was active in the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. He was a charter member of the Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers Association.

In addition to his professional endeavors, Mr. Abell was also active in many civic, community, cultural, social, educational and historical activities. He was a member of the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District. He served as President of the Board during the construction of the present Midland High School auditorium. As a result of these accomplishments, he was awarded a life membership in the Texas Congress of the Parent-Teacher Association. He served as the Chairman of the first capital funds campaign for Midland Memorial Hospital and was a member of the hospital’s Board of Trustees and Board of Governors. A member of the Downtown Midland Rotary Club, he was recognized on numerous occasions for his contributions to the civic, cultural and educational betterment and growth of Midland.

George Abell devoted much time to the Boy Scouts of America, serving in various capacities in the Buffalo Trail Council. He led the capital fund campaign which secured the 6,000 acre camp in the Davis mountains. For his service to the Boy Scouts, he was awarded the highest recognition of the Boy Scouts, the Silver Beaver Award.

While serving as a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Abell originated the idea for the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame. He spent much of his time and effort collecting antique oil field equipment now displayed on the Museum’s grounds. Many of the oil paintings of historical events which are on display in the Museum were researched by George and commissioned by the Abell-Hanger Foundation. He was the first president of the Museum’s board of trustees and a member of the Hall of Fame.
Gladys Hanger Abell was born and raised in Fort Worth, Texas, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County Family. She graduated from Paschal High School and attended Texas Christian University and the University of Texas at Austin.

Throughout her lifetime, Mrs. Abell was an active champion of civic and cultural causes, contributing her time, talents, energy, and financial resources as one of West Texas’ most philanthropic citizens. She served on the board of governors of Midland Memorial Hospital, board of trustees of Midland Presbyterian Homes, and the President’s Club of the Museum of the Southwest. She took great pride in her service on the board of trustees of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame.

Her interests also included the Midland Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Midland Garden Club, Women’s Auxiliary of Midland Memorial Hospital, Delta Delta Delta Midland Alumnae Chapter, and the Midland Women’s Club of which she was a life member.

An avid American patriot, Mrs. Abell was a member of the Texas Chapter of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation was created by Mr. and Mrs. Abell to carry on the philanthropic endeavors which they pursued during their lifetimes. Speaking of business success, George Abell once said,

“Sure, men like to be successful, not just for the money, but because of what one can do for his community, his country, and for mankind. Business success provides the opportunity to do some of the things most of us dream about doing for our community and its various institutions, organizations, and agencies.”

To their memory, this annual statement reports the Foundation’s endeavors for the current fiscal year.

As the Midland Shared Spaces Initiative launched, I was, more than anything else aware of the great legacy of the organization I serve. The charge was to create a shared space that would be a lifeboat for many nonprofit organizations that were being displaced or greatly pressured by the current economic realities in Midland. But, it had to be with excellence. It had to be a project that honored our donors, George and Gladys Abell.

The journey for Midland Shared Spaces began in 2011. The goal was to establish a shared space for nonprofits operating in Midland County. In April of that year, the Nonprofit Centers Network (NCN) led a training session for foundations and nonprofits in our area to explain the concept and how it is being lived out in shared space centers across North America. This session sparked interest and ultimately led the Foundation to launch the Midland Shared Spaces project. Before moving on it is wise to explain the term. What is a shared space? A shared space is a facility design that intentionally houses more than one nonprofit for the purpose of creating economic efficiencies, increasing collaborative processes and better serving the community.

Our community volunteer steering committee was composed of local foundation staff, nonprofit leaders, and business people. When a project like this is taking off you want to have some good sense that “if you build it they will come”. So, later that same fall we engaged the NCN to conduct a feasibility study. After numerous, e-mails, surveys, one-on-one sessions with nonprofits and focus groups, the steering committee received a green light to move forward with the creation of a 30,000-40,000 square foot facility. From that same survey we learned that there was significant interest in a commercial kitchen, and ample common meeting space.

In early 2012, we incorporated Midland Shared Spaces and began the process to gain tax-exempt status from the IRS. We also started a search for the right property. We had made the decision early on that it would be our preference to renovate as opposed to new construction. So, with the aid of more community volunteers we started looking. We eventually narrowed the search to two locations. At the lead of our committee member with a great deal of commercial space management experience, we entered into agreements on both facilities and began due diligence looking at everything from asbestos abatement to termite damage to structural integrity. Both facilities were viable, however the space we eventually purchased had a very interesting charitable angle.

When we first toured the Hillcrest School, then located at 3500 N. A Street, we knew that there were possibilities because of the raw square footage of 42,000, the accessible location and the “good bones” of the building. What made the choice especially attractive was the Win-Win-Win charitable situation that was developing. The leadership at Hillcrest was interested in purchasing the old Midland Bible Church just down the street. We had a nonprofit trifecta with all parties benefiting from the transaction. We closed on the purchase of the building in May of 2012 and leased the space back at no cost to Hillcrest until the end of that year, 2012.

At this point our fundraising was really gaining momentum. The Abell-Hanger Foundation made the decision to purchase the land and building at $2.5M and then gift it to MSS. The Scharbauer Foundation made their first significant grant to the project and others followed. Looking back, without question the support of the Scharbauer Foundation in conjunction with that of Abell-Hanger Foundation was critical to the success of this project. In that regard, the early commitment to the project of Concho Resources and Henry Foundation added traction to the overall fundraising effort.

Mid-summer of 2012 we met with board and staff of several nonprofits, laid out a now much more defined vision of the completed product and asked potential tenants to provide us with a written letter of intent to participate. About a dozen nonprofits responded. It was with those early commitments that it became very evident that there was serious interest in the project and we would be able to open with a strong contingent of tenants.

Throughout the remainder of 2012 and 2013 we developed the design of each tenant space with consult from their Executive Directors. They played a significant role in laying out their space, selecting offices and even placement of their furniture. We also worked with a Dallas I.T. firm to design technology services in the facility. Funds continued to be raised and on January 2nd, 2014, our first tenant started the move into the building.

It is always a worthwhile exercise to identify the lessons learned from an activity in which so much time, effort and community resource has been expended. Here is mine… Collaboration, real collaboration is hard work. When we were in the initial stages of research, there was significant time spent in discussion with shared space staff and board around the country. They all said the same thing. They told us that the biggest surprise and the greatest value-add to shared space is collaboration. Sometimes collaboration is accidental and sometimes it is deliberate. We decided that we would be deliberate. There is so much to be gained from nonprofit collaboration that to shrink from the opportunity would be irresponsible. I can say without reservation that MSS is actively pursuing collaboration that will increase the quality and availability of services in the community.

Finally, appreciation must be offered to so many who played a significant role in the establishment of Midland Shared Spaces. Those at the core of our work are the initial steering committee and the Board of Directors; Jaime Alexander, Cindy Benson, Steve Bowerman, Paul Cain, Dan Hord, Ellen House, Bruce Lowe, Bill Stovall, Anne Warren and Dianne Williams and our Executive Director, Vicki Jay. These generous people along with our donors and tenants made a vision come to reality.

TOTAL .................................................. $7,311,738
In furtherance of the mandate in its charter to support “any benevolent, charitable, educational, or missionary undertaking,” the Foundation makes grants to nonprofit organizations, which are involved in such undertakings for the public welfare, including, but not limited to, education, health services, human services, arts and cultural activities and community or societal benefit.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation has deep roots in Midland and the West Texas region. Midland was the site of Mr. Abell’s professional life and, together with Mrs. Abell, his personal life. As evidenced by the respective biographies is this report, the Abells were engaged in a wide range of community and civic activities. Mr. Abell’s business success was primarily achieved as an oil and gas operator in the rural areas of West Texas. As a result of his involvement in this geographic region, he developed a deep sense of obligation to the people and rural communities of West Texas.

The trustees have a strong commitment to continue the Abell’s philanthropic interests in Midland and West Texas. The trustees have affirmed that commitment to West Texas by targeting a preponderance of the foundation’s annual grant budget to Midland and fifty-six other counties in West Texas: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Brewster, Crane, Cochran, Coke, Cottle, Crockett, Crosby, Culberson, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, El Paso, Fisher, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Hudspeth, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kent, Kimble, Lamb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Menard, Midland, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Reeves, Schleicher, Scurry, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Taylor, Terrell, Terry, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Ward, Winkler and Yoakum.

Please refer to the foundation’s web site, www.abell-hanger.org, for current information on foundation policy, grant criteria, and application deadlines.
