GEORGE THOMAS ABELL

George Thomas Abell was born at Wakeeney, Kansas. While attending Colorado A&M (now Colorado State University), he was a member of Gamma Omega, an honorary fraternity, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a social fraternity. He graduated with degrees in civil and irrigation engineering and mechanical engineering. In 1927 he moved to Midland, Texas, where he trained himself as a geologist and entered the petroleum business as an independent oil operator. In 1939, he married Gladys Hanger of Ft. Worth, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County family.

During his professional career, he was active in the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Association, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. He was a charter member of the Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers Association.

In addition to his professional endeavors, Mr. Abell was also active in many civic, community, cultural, social, educational and historical activities. He was a member of the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District. He served as President of the Board during the construction of the present Midland High School auditorium. As a result of these accomplishments, he was awarded a life membership in the Texas Congress of the Parent-Teacher Association. He served as the Chairman of the first capital funds campaign for Midland Memorial Hospital and was a member of the hospital's Board of Trustees and Board of Governors. A member of the Downtown Midland Rotary Club, he was recognized on numerous occasions for his contributions to the civic, cultural and educational betterment and growth of Midland.

George Abell devoted much time to the Boy Scouts of America, serving in various capacities in the Buffalo Trail Council. He led the capital fund campaign which secured the 6,000 acre camp in the Davis mountains. For his service to the Boy Scouts, he was awarded the highest recognition of the Boy Scouts, the Silver Beaver Award.

While serving as a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Abell originated the idea for the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame. He spent much of his time and effort collecting antique oil field equipment now displayed on the Museum's grounds. Many of the oil paintings of historical events which are on display in the Museum were researched by George and commissioned by the Abell-Hanger Foundation. He was the first president of the Museum's board of trustees and a member of the Hall of Fame.

GLADYS HANGER ABELL

Gladys Hanger Abell was born and raised in Fort Worth, Texas, the daughter of a pioneer Tarrant County Family. She graduated from Paschal High School and attended Texas Christian University and the University of Texas at Austin.

Throughout her lifetime, Mrs. Abell was an active champion of civic and cultural causes, contributing her time, talents, energy, and financial resources as one of West Texas' most philanthropic citizens. She served on the board of governors of Midland Memorial Hospital, board of trustees of Midland Presbyterian Homes, and the President's Club of the Museum of the Southwest. She took great pride in her service on the board of trustees of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame.

Her interests also included the Midland Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Midland Garden Club, Women's Auxiliary of Midland Memorial Hospital, Delta Delta Midland Alumnae Chapter, and the Midland Women's Club of which she was a life member. An avid American patriot, Mrs. Abell was a member of the Texas Chapter of the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation was created by Mr. and Mrs. Abell to carry on the philanthropic endeavors which they pursued during their lifetimes. Speaking of business success, George Abell once said,

"Sure, men like to be successful, not just for the money, but because of what one can do for his community, his country, and for mankind. Business success provides the opportunity to do some of the things most of us dream about doing for our community and its various institutions, organizations, and agencies."

To their memory, this annual statement reports the Foundation's endeavors for the current fiscal year.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS ANNUAL REPORT

June 30, 2020

Each year a letter for our annual report must be produced describing the work of the foundation for the year just concluded. There is often a struggle to decide which project or event should be highlighted. There was no struggle this year. For although COVID-19 struck late in our fiscal year, it was the big event which consumed more time and effort than any other.

The global pandemic placed great focus on basic human needs and those local nonprofits who help meet them. In conversations with Midland Health, Senior Life and the West Texas Food Bank, to name a few, we learned of the pressure they were experiencing responding to a tidal wave of demand. While we all appreciate the work of these institutions, it takes a crisis like this one to remind us how fundamental their services are to the well-being and quality of life of a community.

A group of 15 funders began a series of video conferences starting in March. The purpose of the meetings was to ascertain the impact of the crisis on nonprofits and determine what needs to be done collectively and individually. Over the course of the calls, more than forty organizations shared their journey, telling of their innovation and creativity as they continue to fulfill their mission.

Nonprofits had to navigate a course through the storm. There was some initial shock, but conversation quickly turned to the ways they would modify to best meet need and do it safely. Counseling agencies turned to tele-counseling platforms. Basin PBS took the remarkable step of providing Texas school curriculum on their website to support the many parents who were, for the first time, providing much more support for their child's education than had ever been required. And on and on.

The story is not finished. The price of oil has yet to rebound and as I write this letter there are 60,000 new cases of the virus reported every day. With few exceptions, each person that I call or meet online expresses their growing need to interact with other people, to shake hands, to see friends face-to-face. We all feel the emotional toll. In addition, we have new stressors like fear of the virus and isolation and the familiar stress of an economy in a down cycle.

It is certainly timely that we have been investigating ways we can invest to expand the access and availability of mental health services. At our annual meeting in June the trustees approved two grants resulting from collaborations with fellow funders. The first, an engagement with Meadows Mental Health Policy Institute to provide consulting services with the stated goal of detailing how to improve academic outcomes and school safety by meeting the behavioral, emotional and mental health needs of students. The second project is a collaboration with Scharbauer Foundation to expand Healthy Minds. Providence most certainly played a role in the timing of this work.

We will persevere. We will meet this new challenge with courage and with the passion that drives us to work in our sector every day.

FOUNDATION POLICY

In furtherance of the mandate in its charter to support “any benevolent, charitable, educational, or missionary undertaking,” the Foundation makes grants to nonprofit organizations, which are involved in such undertakings for the public welfare, including, but not limited to, education, health services, human services, arts and cultural activities and community or societal benefit.

The Abell-Hanger Foundation has deep roots in Midland and the West Texas region. Midland was the site of Mr. Abell’s professional life and, together with Mrs. Abell, his personal life. As evidenced by the respective biographies in this report, the Abells were engaged in a wide range of community and civic activities. Mr. Abell’s business success was primarily achieved as an oil and gas operator in the rural areas of West Texas. As a result of his involvement in this geographic region, he developed a deep sense of obligation to the people and rural communities of West Texas.

The trustees have a strong commitment to continue the Abell’s philanthropic interests in Midland and West Texas. The trustees have affirmed that commitment to West Texas by targeting a preponderance of the foundation’s annual grant budget to Midland and fifty-six other counties in West Texas: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Brewster, Crane, Cochran, Coke, Cottle, Crockett, Crosby, Culberson, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, El Paso, Fisher, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Hudspeth, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kent, Kimble, King, Lamb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Menard, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Reeves, Schleicher, Scurry, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Taylor, Terrell, Terry, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Ward, Winkler and Yoakum.

Please refer to the foundation’s web site, www.abell-hanger.org, for current information on foundation policy, grant criteria, and application deadlines.
